MEET THE TEAM

We have recently added to our team here in Strule...

Anna joined our team in 2019 after having graduated from the Veterinary Faculty of University of Thessaly in 2018. After graduation, she participated in the Erasmus+ Programme in the University of Leon, in Spain. She enjoys travelling, listening to music and discovering new places in her spare time by walking or cycling. Having a love of horses, Anna began horse riding when she was student. She has always loved dogs and takes a special interest in canine behaviour. Through working with a dog trainer, Anna has learnt to read many behaviour traits in dogs and how to work with them using body language and hand signals. She looks forward to meeting all our clients and looking after your animals – large and small!

BE PREPARED FOR LAMBING SEASON!

Below is a list of supplies needed for lambing and you can get them all in Strule Vets! We have you covered. The main 4 points of prep for lambing are:

1. Feeding the ewes the right amount and type of feed during late pregnancy. This can have an impact on how your lambing season will go. If the ewes are overweight, there is a higher risk of a prolapse and bigger lambs making birth more difficult. If they are underweight, it can reduce the quality of colostrum and the lamb will be smaller and in poorer condition. Colostrum quality is of great importance as it is the main source of nutrition for the lamb, it provides antibodies to protect against disease and can help prevent hypothermia.
2. The lambing facilities need to be set up with clean pens and fresh bedding and draught free.
3. Have your lambing kit to hand, so you are ready for action.
4. Know your vets' number if you need us. 028 8166 1380 – Put us on speed dial as we are here for you 24/7
